

Elevational centroid by period (published Figure 4 statistic) labels show the shift relative to each model's own Pre-María baseline Absolute heights are not comparable between model classes: the GLM's linear logit keeps rising to 1300 m while HERON saturates above ~700 m. The within-model shifts are the comparable quantity.